Windhager has refined its tried and tested MESplus system control and presents the new generation of control technology, MES INFINITY. Most of the enhancements relate to improving ease of use. As with Windhager's myComfort control app, you can now use touch and swipe commands to undertake all settings directly on the boiler display and master operating element in the living area. Both units have the same, simple operating philosophy. A web server is integrated as standard to allow the heating system to be controlled by smartphone or tablet no matter where you are. Even in heating systems with several heat generators and heating circuits, MES INFINITY ensures maximum comfort coupled with outstanding energy efficiency.
